Parasites

“Uninvited Guests”

Introduction

Most of us are familiar with Dr. Hulda Clark’s books – Cure for All Cancers and Cure for All Diseases. Her incredible research about the connection between parasites and disease started a health phenomenon.

People are finally realizing that there are many things that they will never hear from their family doctor. There is much to be said about preventative and natural approaches to health-care. Especially when one of your first steps is to deal with parasites that lurk in your body; because they are so detrimental to your health and well being.

“You may be an unsuspecting victim of the parasite epidemic that is affecting millions of Americans. It is an epidemic that knows no territorial, economic, or sexual boundaries. It is a silent epidemic of which doctors in this country are not even aware” (Ann Louise Gittleman).

A parasite is an organism that lives off the host, the host being you. The parasite lives a parallel life inside our body feeding off our own energy, our own cells or food we eat. Parasites are even feeding off the health supplements we use, greatly diminishing their effectiveness.

parasites, ranging from microscopic to tapeworms that are several feet long. Contrary to Humans can play “host” to over 100 different kinds of popular belief, parasites are NOT restricted to our colon alone but can be found in other parts of the body; lungs, liver, muscles and joints, esophagus, brain, blood and on skin.

A Draw Back To Atkins

"The incidence of parasitic disease in North America is skyrocketing because of increased international travel, contamination of the water/food supplies and overuse of chemicals, mercury and prescription antibiotics. Parasites are found in highest concentration in commercial pork products (bacon, ham, hot dogs, cold cuts, pork chops, etc). Beef, chicken, lamb and even fish are contaminated" (Dr. Zolton Rona). Obviously this is not good news for a society that consumes a lot of meat. Ann Louise Gittleman, author, writes, "Pork tapeworm infects man though eating infested, undercooked pork such as fresh or smoked ham or sausage... The larva stage develops in the muscle, spreads through the central nervous system into other tissues and organs, and finally hooks onto the upper small intestine. Pork tapeworm causes great harm to the human host when immature larvae invade the muscle, heart, eyes or brain."

The quickest way for a parasite larva to enter our body is through contaminated foods, improperly washed fruits and vegetables and insufficiently cooked meats. Another sure way of contracting parasites is from our pets.

The goal of a parasite is not to make itself known. A smart parasite lives without being detected because if it is detected, it is likely to be eradicated. Parasites are crafty in their ability to survive and reproduce. If you know how to read the body and how to interpret its signals, then the presence of a parasite can be determined quite easily. However, if you accept that it is normal to have low energy and health challenges. That it is normal to have skin rashes, pains, frequent colds, flu and constipation (the list is almost endless) then you will never find out if you have parasites.

The traditional method for checking for parasites is though examining the stool, but that is very unreliable. The stool is tested for parasite eggs under a microscope. If the parasite living in your body did not lay any eggs during that period then the presence of it will go undetected. Parasites lay an incredible quantity of eggs. Dr Thomas J Brooks writes, "A female hook-worm can lay 10,000 – 25,000 eggs at one time. A round worm can grow to be up to 40 cm long and is capable of laying 200,000 eggs a day. The longest parasite can be caught by eating fish (fish tapeworm). A mature adult can reach and incredible 30 feet in length and can lay 1 million eggs."

Common symptoms of parasites in humans are constipa-notice an improvement in their health, despite a healthy lifestyle and vitamin supplementation.

Naturopathic doctors recom-

Our standard diet of fast foods, process foods and limited fresh fruits and vegetables promote the creation of toxins and colon build up, which can only be taken out by natural cleansing processes. We must clean the built up fecal matter out of our colon in order to avoid self-poisoning. If we don't take the appropriate steps to rid our colon of this build-up and the parasites that make it their home then we are actually al-conditions, nervousness, sleep disturbances, teeth grinding, chronic fatigue, immune system dysfunction, excess weight, acne, asthma, heart disease, diabetes, migraines, cancer and others.

Some experts are quite cautious about acknowledging a link between parasites and heat disease or cancer. But Dr. Hilda Clark claims that most cancers are caused by "fasciolosis buskii" parasite and that every single patient with cancer has parasites. Once Dr. Clark eliminated their parasites, incredibly, the tumors also disappeared. That is why so many nutrition experts recommend a parasite cleanse to all those who suffer from every-day ailments that traditional medicines were not able to address.

Parasites end up receiving mend a cleanse for anywhere from 20 to 90 days in length, but for a thorough cleanse two months is best to break the reproduction cycle.

While doing a parasite cleanse it is very important to make sure your colon is eliminating properly. To achieve this drink at least 10 glasses of energized water per day and take a quality of colon cleanse product at night. Most disease and discomfort is directly related to an unclean colon due to impacted fecal matter.

Being "internally clean" is a lot more important than belowing our bodies to get more and more toxic with each passing day. When the body is trying to absorb nutrients through the colon which is backed up, it is actually absorbing poisonous fecal matter. Toxins also block enzymes and nothing in the body functions properly without enzymes.

In closing, I would like to quote Dr. Paul Bragg, "While toxins remain in the body, one can never feel really great but as one cleanses and detoxifies their body, their overall well being dramatically improves... This way the secret to great health can be described in 3 words: CLEANSE YOUR BODY! Engrave these 3 words permanently in your memory."
